

Calendar-Based Curriculum Map: Child Development

	August or January	September or January/February
Essential Question	How does FCCLA assist students in assuming a leadership role as a responsible Family Member and Citizen?	What are the different roles of parenting? What are the health concerns and needs during prenatal development?
Content	Leadership Styles; Characteristics of effective leadership; FCCLA mission, goals, and components; problem solving; FCCLA planning process	Factors/choices related to parenting; changes and adaptations needed for parenting; parenting practices; fetal development during pregnancy; labor and delivery; substance use and abuse related to pregnancy; genetic/environmental factors;
Skills	Define leadership and leadership styles; Identify characteristics of effective leadership; Identify organization roles and opportunities and how they assist in becoming a family member and citizen; Demonstrate problem solving skills	Analyze the choices parents make and their affects; List changes and adaptations the parents must make; Describe different parenting practices; Identify the characteristics of fetal development; Describe the process of labor/delivery; Explain the impact of substance use and abuse on fetal development; Identify different genetic/environmental factors that affect pregnancy
Assessments	Worksheets, Quizzes, FCCLA Power of One unit, Step One, FCCLA test	Worksheets, Quizzes, Unit test
Activities/Resources	Step One CD; Power of One Manual, FCCLA Handbook,	Textbook, Labor/Delivery videos, Substance Abuse and Pregnancy Video, Parenting Videos

Calendar-Based Curriculum Map:

	October or March	November or April
Essential Question	What are the developmental stages? What are appropriate interaction styles and techniques?	What are health concerns during the developmental stages? What are the guidelines for creating a safe environment for children?
Content	Developmental areas; Developmental stages; individual differences in development; ways to optimize development through play; guidance/discipline techniques; communication skills	Community health services; first aid procedures; wellness plans; components of a safe environment; signs of abuse and neglect; resources for violence prevention, reporting, and counseling
Skills	Identify the stages of development (physical, social, emotional, and cognitive); Describe individual differences in development; Explain developmental sequences; Explain how play can optimize development; Identify guidance/discipline techniques; Explain the impact of communication upon self esteem;	Describe community health services; Determine appropriate first aid procedures; devise a comprehensive plan for childhood wellness; List the components of a safe environment; Describe signs of abuse/neglect; Identify the community resources for violence prevention, reporting and counseling
Assessments	Worksheets, Quizzes, Unit test	Worksheets, Quizzes, Unit test, Comparison presentation on community resources, Wellness plan
Activities/Resources	Textbook, Child Observations/Evaluations, Discipline video	Textbook, Internet resources on Community services, Quest speaker on Community resources

Calendar-Based Curriculum Map:

	December or May	December Only
Essential Question	What are the options in child care for parents? What are the key careers within the child development area?	How do you apply child development information to real life situations?
Content	Guidelines for quality Child Care; Cost and features of child care; Public policy related to child care/development/guidance; Careers related to child care and guidance	Real life simulation of child development
Skills	Identify the guidelines parents should use to select quality child care; Compare and contrast the different cost and features of various child care options; Identify how public policy is related to child care/development/guidance; Investigate careers related to child care and guidance including income, conditions, requirements, and characteristics of each job	Communication skills to promote self esteem, Analyze stages of development and appropriate behaviors and reactions;
Assessments	Worksheets, Quizzes, Unit test, pamphlet for parents to use when selecting child care,
Activities/Resources	Textbook, career presentation,	Santa Letters and visit to second grade